

LITIGATING WITH CATALYST CAPITAL

West Face Capital is a defendant in several lawsuits commenced by The Catalyst Capital Group Inc. and/or Callidus Capital Corporation. Both Catalyst Capital and Callidus Capital are managed by Mr. Newton Glassman, along with Gabriel De Alba (for Catalyst) and James Riley.

Due to the large volume of documents, and in response to numerous inquiries from current and prospective investors, service providers and industry participants that it interacts with, West Face has assembled the public court documents in the archive hosted on this website. We intend to add new court documents as they become available.

The first Catalyst lawsuit – identified on this website as the “Moyses Litigation” – went to trial in June 2016 before Mr. Justice Newbould. The trial judge dismissed the Catalyst claims in their entirety in a decision rendered in August 2016. In his decision, Justice Newbould also made credibility findings against the Catalyst witnesses, including Mr. Glassman. Catalyst’s appeal of Justice Newbould’s decision was dismissed on its merits from the bench by the Ontario Court of Appeal in February 2018.

The third Catalyst lawsuit – identified on this website as the “2016 VimpelCom Litigation” – was dismissed as an abuse of process in a decision rendered in April 2018. Catalyst is appealing that decision to the Ontario Court of Appeal.

West Face believes that the Catalyst and Callidus claims in each of these proceedings are without merit and is vigorously defending each of these proceedings, and is also pursuing its counterclaim in the Whistleblower Litigation.
